WANT ARCHITECT TO AID COMMITTEE

Chairman Mitchell Urges Prompt Decision on Memorial Hospital Offer.

REPAIRS PROVE COSTLY

American Locomotive Company Presents Bill of $966.80 for Repairing Ambulance.

Although there were some hours of discussion both in a subcommittee and later in the Committee on Relief of the Poor yesterday afternoon, little progress was made toward solving the problem of providing a proper city hospital. Chairman Welch of the subcommittee reported that the trustees of the Charlotte Williams Corporation, owning the Memorial Hospital, were willing to renew the offer made to the old Council to donate that building and site to the city on the condition that the city will take up a mortgage of $40,000. The building is valued at from $250,000 to $300,000. The subcommittee is charged to report whether in its judgment it is more advisable to make extensive improvements at the City Home; to acquire some hospital already erected, such as the Memorial, or to purchase a lot and erect a new and modern city hospital. The only action of the full committee was to recommend to the Council a special appropriation of $250 for employment of an architect to advise with the committee as to the comparative cost of the three propositions.

Some bitterness developed in the debate, Mr. Umlauf showing open opposition to acceptance of the Memorial offer, while Chairman Mitchell thought the subcommittee should go fully into the matter and enable the Council to give to the Charlotte Williams Corporation a definite answer, either accepting or rejecting a proposition which has now been before the Council without any definite action for more than a year.

High Cost of Repairs.
The committee also discussed at some length a bill from the American Locomotive Company of $966.80 for repairs to the automobile ambulance, the chassis of which was recently shipped to the company's works at Providence was one of 467 hours time, amounting to $500.55, which the committee considered excessive. It developed that no preliminary estimate had been submitted of the cost of the repairs. The old committee purchased a new ambulance from the same company, and when that was delivered, ordered the ones put in order, the representatives of the company offering to do certain of the work without cost. The bill went over to enable the chairman and auditor of the committee to consult practical automobile men as to the reasonableness of the various itemized charges.

OFFICIALS FOR POLLING PLACES

Electoral Board of Henrico County Chooses Officers for Tuesday's Election.

The electoral board of Henrico County, which will meet this morning in the county courthouse to make final arrangements for holding the general election Tuesday, has selected the officials for the seventeen polling places under its jurisdiction. The board will mail final instructions to these officers this morning.

In speaking of the complexity of the ballot yesterday, T. C. Ruffin, secretary of the board, said that it would only be necessary for voters to scratch the names of the four candidates for president and vice-president, for whom they do not want to vote, in order to cast a vote for the favored candidate. The names of the electors, which follow those of the party candidates, need not be touched so long as the voter indicates his choice for president and vice-president.

GRASP'S LIVE ELECTRIC WIRE

Young White Man Knocked to Ground and Probably Fatally Injured.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Salem, N. C., November 1.—In attempting to climb a thirty-five-foot pole and grasp a live electric wire, William Fesperman, a young white man, was dangerously and perhaps fatally hurt near Salisbury last night.
He was passing where linemen were at work and climbed to the top of the pole to show the men how he could hold a live wire. Instantly he was knocked to the ground, and later rushed to a hospital for treatment.

BANQUET GIVEN TO HONOR SILLS

NEIL D. SILLS.

A remarkable demonstration of personal popularity was accorded Neil D.
Sills, the recently elected president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, when thirty of the city's most prominent business and professional men assembled around the table last night in the Flemish room of the Jefferson Hotel, at a banquet given Mr.
Sills by the Life Underwriters' Association of Virginia. With W. B. Allen, president of the Richmond Life Underwriters' Association, acting as toastmaster, five speakers paid their personal compliments to the guest of honor upon his election and upon his past services.

In addition to the toastmaster, those who spoke were Mayor George Ainslie, on behalf of the city; W. P. Dodson, from the Norfolk Life Underwriters Association; W. B. Freeman, for the Richmond association; S. B. Love, who spoke on the prospects of having the national convention meet here in 1914, and Mr. Sills himself, who delivered an able address.

"It is a good plan once in a while to take a look at the institution of life insurance in this country," said Mr.
Sills. "At the close of last year, there were 240 legal reserve companies, with admitted assets of more than $1,164, 000,000, which is about four times the amount of the national debt. The annual income of these companies is $244,000,000.
The companies paid out last year $279,000,000. The reserve held by these companies for the security of the policyholders is $3,545,000,000, and the surplus more than $500,000,000. Two billions of new insurance was written last year, making the total amount in force over $18,000,000,000."

A strenuous effort will be made by Virginia and the Southern delegates at the Atlantic City convention this year to have the 1914 national convention meet in Richmond, said S. B. Love.

The wires are being laid this far ahead in the hope of insuring success, but the competition will be fierce. Many other cities will submit invitations and inducements to have the honor of the convention.

Besides the members of the Richmond Association of Life Underwriters, those who were present were: W. P. George Ainslie, Dodson, of Norfolk; S. K. McKee, tin Brockenhough; Dr. W. A. M. herd, Dr. George C. Hall, G. W. D.
James R. Wright, of Montreal; Gray Watson, L. D. Warren, E. W.
Young, D. D., John Stewart Bryan, P. Bryan, T. M. Carrington and George Ainslie.
